ite the difference! So why does a minecraft day go by so much faster than a real life? It's not just the difference in time, it's the difference in the way we experience time. In Minecraft, time is measured in ticks, and each tick represents 1/20th of a second. This means that a full day in Minecraft is only 24,000 ticks, or 1,200 seconds, which is equivalent to 20 real-world minutes. This is why a Minecraft day feels so much shorter than a real-world day.
